NO MAN IS STRONGER THAN HIS STOMACH.

Let the greatest athlete have dyspepsia and his muscles would soon fail. Physical strength is derived from food. If a man has no food he dies. Food is converted into nutrition through the stomach and bowels. It depends on the strength of the stomach to what extent food is digested and assimilated. People can die of starvation who have abundant food to eat, when the stomach and its associate organs of digestion and nutrition do not perform their duty. Thus the stomach is really the vital organ of the body. If the stomach is "weak" the body will be weak also, because it is upon the stomach the body relies for its strength. And so the body, considered as a whole, is made up of the several members and organs, so the weakness of the body as a consequence of "weak" stomach will be distributed among the organs which compose the body. If the body is weak because it is ill-nourished that physical weakness will be found in all the organs—heart, liver, kidneys, etc. The liver will be torpid and inactive, giving rise to biliousness, loss of appetite, weak nerves, feeble or irregular action of heart, palpitation, dizziness, headache, backache and kindred disturbances and weakness.

Mr. Louis Pare, of Quebec, writes: "For years after my health began to fail, my head grew dizzy, eyes pained me, and my stomach was sore all the time, while everything I would eat would seem to lie heavily like lead on my stomach. The doctors claimed that it was sympathetic trouble due to dyspepsia, and prescribed for me, and although I took their medicines regularly, I felt no better. My wife advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and stop taking the doctor's medicines. She bought me a bottle and we soon found that I began to improve, so I kept up the treatment. I took on flesh, my stomach became normal, the digestive organs worked perfectly and I soon began to look like a different person. I can never cease to be grateful for what your medicine has done for me, and I certainly give it highest praise." Don't be wheedled by a penny-grabbing dealer into taking inferior substitutes for Dr. Pierce's medicine, recommended to be just as good.

To gain knowledge of your own body—in sickness and health—send for the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser. A book of 486 pages. Send 21 cents in stamps for postage prepaid, or 23 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, 603 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Children Burned to Death.

Reports of the burning of four children in Campbell county, Va., Sunday, reached Lynchburg yesterday. John Irvine, a thrifty negro, living near Evinston, went with his wife to church that morning locking their four children in the house, which caught fire and was destroyed before the parents returned. Only a few bones and charred remains were found and some melted silver, the latter being part of several hundred dollars in the home.

Four children—two boys and two girls—ranging in age from two months to five years, were burned to death at their home, near Westfield, N. J., last night. Mrs. W. F. Wenzel and Mrs. Oscar Feltner, who lived together with their two children, each went out to work, leaving their little ones at home alone. During their absence their house caught fire. Firemen extinguished the flames and found the bodies of the children burned beyond recognition.

Two children, a boy and a girl, belonging to Alfred Small, were burned to death yesterday at their home in Pittston, Pa. Their mother had gone to a neighbor's house on an errand, leaving the children in the kitchen. She left the baby boy fastened in a high chair, and it is thought the girl played with paper in the kitchen stove fire, setting herself ablaze and also the boy. Both were burned to a crisp before neighbors discovered the kitchen on fire.
